Dear Event Planner -

I don't think I have ever met a speaker that everyone in our conference felt such a personal connection to. She had us laughing, crying and coming together to celebrate our successes as farm women.

Her natural ability, to relate so well, made her message that much more powerful. I truly think she made or tried to make a personal connection with each of the 100+ participants at our conference. Her lively, easy-going nature made her so approachable and joining us for our banquet/dance was a highlight most of us won't forget.

From the moment you meet Katie, you feel like you have met a lifelong friend. She would be an asset to any conference/workshop/event that you are hosting.
